

1. Sharing Opinions

I think online classes are useful.

I believe practice is important for learning.

In my opinion, homework is helpful.

I feel this method is easy to understand.

I think students should read every day.

I believe English is an important language.

In my opinion, group study is effective.

I think mobile phones are distracting.

I feel this rule is fair.

I believe hard work brings success.

2. Giving Reasons

I think homework is useful because it helps practice.

Online learning is good because it saves time.

I like this idea because it is simple.

Mobile phones are distracting because students lose focus.

Practice is important because it improves skills.

I think this rule is good because it keeps discipline.

Group study is helpful because we learn from others.

I prefer offline classes because I can ask questions.

This method works well because it is easy.

Students should read daily because it builds vocabulary.

3. Agreeing

I agree with you.

You are right.

That's true.

I think you are correct.

I completely agree with your idea.

That's a good point.

Yes, I agree with that.

I also think the same.

You are absolutely right.

I agree because practice is important.

4. Disagreeing

I don't agree with you.

I don't think so.

I see your point, but I think it is difficult.

I understand, but I disagree.

That may be true, but I have a different opinion.

I don't agree because it can be confusing.

I see your idea, but I think this is better.

I understand your point, but I prefer another way.

I don't think that is correct.

I respect your opinion, but I disagree.

5. Asking Opinions

What do you think about this idea?

Do you agree with me?

What is your opinion?

How do you feel about this?

Do you think this is a good idea?

What is your view on this?

Do you believe this is helpful?

What do you think we should do?

Do you agree or disagree?

What is your suggestion?

6. Debate Sentences

I think online learning is good because it saves time.

I agree with you, but students need interaction.

I don't agree because it can be distracting.

I understand your point, but this method is better.

In my opinion, homework is important because it improves learning.

That's true, but students also need rest.

I believe mobile phones should not be allowed because they distract students.

I see your point, but they can be useful for learning.

I agree because practice helps students improve.

I don't think this idea will work because it is difficult.